i found out i can do Amarillo's listings on The Oklahoman archives as well. It's so cool!

Did the Oklahoman include all stations serving Oklahoma, such as Lawton/Wichita Falls, Tulsa, Sherman/Ada/Ardmore, Fort Smith, Joplin, Dallas/Fort Worth, Wichita, and even Texarkana/Shreveport?

it only included Lawton/Wichita Falls, Dallas/Fort Worth, and Sherman/Ada/Ardmore, the others were not in the listings

i forgot, it did also include Tulsa, but you can also pick which market you want to do the listings for each date

Source: TV Guide. A rare find indeed, these don't turn up often on eBay. 23 over-the-air stations + WGN (and obviously other cable channels). A doozy for the editors! The lady who had this TV Guide lived in Gulfport. Amazing that this magazine survived the wrath that was Katrina, some 13 1/2 years ago.

Retro: Oklahoma City - Week of October 17, 1982

This post looks at the week of October 17-23, 1982, the week KAUT-TV adopted a free-to-air broadcast schedule full-time. The station ceased carrying VEU, the subscription television service launched by KAUT founding owner Golden West Broadcasters, on October 16. (VEU continued to operate until September 1984 over KNBN-TV (now KDAF) in Dallas-Fort Worth and WVEU (now WUPA) in Atlanta.) This post will also include listings for regional and national superstations available on cable and MMDS providers in the Oklahoma City market. (I will likely add listings for superstations to my earlier posts at later dates.)

I believe the "Fantasy" listed on ch. 4 (2:30 PM) was a wish-fulfillment show hosted by Peter Marshall and Leslie Uggams. It ran to October 28, 1983. Also, on ch. 9 at 7:30 AM Saturday, that should be The Sylvester & Tweety/Daffy & Speedy Show.

Yes. All issues of Television News published in the Oklahoman prior to the changeover to the TV This Week format in the spring of 1997 included listings for stations in surrounding markets (Tulsa, Wichita, Amarillo, Ada-Ardmore-Sherman, Dallas-Fort Worth, Lawton-Wichita Falls and, until 1982, Fort Smith-Fayetteville [the latter only for KFSA-TV/KFSM-TV]) within the supplement. Once the newspaper revamped the TV listings supplement in 1997, out-of-market stations were placed in two separate editions of TV This Week, one for the Tulsa area and one for the other surrounding markets.

I may add out-of-market listings from some of the PDF copies of Television News I have in the near future. Though I should note that while I have a few PDF copies of both the Tulsa and statewide editions of TV This Week that I have downloaded from the Oklahoman's digital archive, I don't have as many right now in my collection compared to the Television News PDF copies. So, unless I find copies of TV This Week from the archive that are suitable for conversion/download, any listings I post from 1997 onward would primarily come from the Oklahoma City (Cox listings) edition of the supplement.

I had no idea WCJB was primary NBC at first. I thought it always was ABC due to the strong VHF signals of WESH and WTLV getting into the Gainesville area.

Retro: Oklahoma City - Week of October 15, 1989

This post looks at the week of October 15-21, 1989, the week in which I was born (my birthdate was Friday, the 20th). This week saw two major events cross paths: the first was the 1989 World Series – which began on Saturday, October 14 – which saw a crosstown matchup between the San Francisco Giants and Oakland Athletics, and was known as either the "Bay Bridge Series," the "BART Series" or the "Battle of the Bay" (it was the first World Series involving crosstown teams to have occurred since 1956). The second was the Loma Prieta earthquake, the 6.9-magnitude temblor which struck at 5:04 p.m. (Pacific Time) on October 17 (35 minutes prior to the start of Game 3 of the series, which was televised nationally by ABC). The quake – which turned out to be the first major earthquake that struck within the U.S. ever to have been broadcast on live television – caused severe damage throughout the San Francisco Bay Area and affected the game's Candlestick Park venue, knocking out power to the stadium and damaging its upper deck. As such, for the safety of spectators, Game 3 was postponed until October 27 and the deciding Game 4 (which was originally scheduled to be played on October 18) was delayed accordingly until October 28. (The As would rout the Giants to win the championship, four games to zero.)

DISCLAIMER: Because of the disruptions to the World Series schedule caused by the Loma Prieta earthquake, prime time programming changes made by ABC due to the postponement of Games 3 and 4 will be noted in the October 17 and 18 schedules for KOCO-TV within this thread. Also, from this post onward, program schedules for the major national and regional superstations available in the Oklahoma City market at the time of the individual schedule periods will be listed separately from those for the local broadcast stations.

† As a consequence of the Loma Prieta earthquake, ABC aired repeat episodes of Roseanne and The Wonder Years amid the initial uncertainty as to whether Game 3 of the 1989 World Series would take place as scheduled; an extended ABC News Special Report – anchored by Ted Koppel from the news division's Washington, D.C. bureau, with Al Michaels (who served as a color commentator for ABC's World Series coverage that year) acting as a de facto reporter – on the earthquake's immediate aftermath followed those two programs.

† Prior to the Loma Prieta earthquake that resulted in the remaining games in the series being delayed, ABC had originally scheduled the film to air as a contingency in case the 1989 World Series ended before Game 5. KOCO also had originally scheduled the 5 Alive Sports World Series Pre-Game Show to lead into the game; had Game 6 been held on this date, KOCO would have preempted that night's scheduled syndicated M*A*S*H rerun.

BTW, if anyone can research what programs ABC aired in place of the earthquake-postponed World Series Game 4 on the evening of October 18, post below. As I noted, the Oklahoman wasn't able to receive notice of schedule changes made by ABC before press time; I'm also not sure whether other newspapers around Oklahoma or elsewhere around the U.S. were able to post programming substitutions that ABC made for that night before their October 18 editions went to press.

It is interesting to see WBBM (as a CBS owned station) air Love of Life at 2:30pm following Guiding Light in its final months. The CBS network chose to air it at 4:00/3:00pm Central instead following the rest of the soap lineup at 3:30/2:30pm. This never made sense airing One Day at a Time at 3:30 bumping Love of Life to 4:00 where it was subject to pre-emptions by many stations. Before the time slot change in April 1979, most CBS stations did carry Love of Life at 11:30/10:30am without much pre-emption.

Retro: Dallas-Fort Worth - June 25-July 8, 1995

We're taking a trip to another market for this post, which will take a look at the schedules of some of the Dallas-Fort Worth area's television stations during the period of June 25 to July 8, 1995. The changes to television in the Metroplex that took place during this two-week period trace back to May 1994, when New World Communications signed an affiliation agreement with the Fox Broadcasting Company to switch most of the television stations it already owned through its 1993 purchase of SCI Television or had announced that it would acquire within weeks of the affiliation agreement's signing from Argyle Television Holdings and Great American Communications (formerly Taft Television and Radio Company and later Citicasters).

As a direct result of the New World-Fox deal, on July 2, KDFW-TV (channel 4) – a longtime CBS affiliate that New World acquired as part of the Argyle Television purchase – assumed the Fox programming rights for the Dallas-Fort Worth market. The switch resulted in the station expanding its news schedule from 19 hours per week to 30 hours per week (through the expansions of its weekday morning newscast to two hours, its 5:00pm newscast to one hour and the addition of a nightly prime time newscast at 9:00pm), and acquiring additional syndicated programming to fill certain time slots that were previously occupied by CBS programs which had not been filled by the expanded newscasts. The Fox-New World deal also affected three other Metroplex-area television stations:

* KTVT (channel 11) – which was owned at the time by Gaylord Broadcasting and operated as an independent station and regional superstation; KTVT replaced KDFW as the market's CBS affiliate under an agreement between Gaylord (which also saw fellow independent KSTW in Seattle-Tacoma operate as a CBS affiliate for two years before Gaylord's sale of that station to Viacom resulted in the CBS programming rights in Seattle move back to previous affiliate KIRO-TV in 1997) and the network. (The only non-network station in Dallas-Fort Worth that had a news department prior to the switch, KTVT expanded its news programming from seven to 12 hours per week, with the additions of an hour-long weekday morning newscast at 6:00am and a half-hour early evening newscast as well as the conversion of its late newscast from an hour-long prime time newscast at 9:00pm to a 35-minute broadcast at 10:00pm.);

* KDAF (channel 33) – one of the six original Fox owned-and-operated stations, which then-Fox parent News Corporation acquired as part of its 1986 purchase of Metromedia; its Fox Television Stations unit – which would later re-enter the Dallas-Fort Worth market when it bought KDFW and the other New World stations in 1996 – sold KDAF to Renaissance Broadcasting (as part of a two-station swap with the network's Denver affiliate, KDVR) in order to affiliate with KDFW under the New World deal. (After the network decided to move its programming to KDFW and sell KDAF, Fox cancelled then-ongoing plans to reinstate a news department for channel 33, which would not take place until subsequent acquiree Tribune Broadcasting launched a 9:00pm newscast for the station in 1999.);

* and KXTX-TV (channel 39) – then owned by the Christian Broadcasting Network and operating as an English-language entertainment station; KXTX relinquished its affiliation rights to fledgling The WB (with which it affiliated upon that network's launch the prior January) to KDAF.

NOTE: All content featured in this post was culled from the June 25 and July 2, 1995 editions of The Oklahoman's weekly TV listings magazine (then titled Television News), from which I source my schedule posts for the Oklahoma City market. Prior to its reformatting as TV This Week in May 1997, the supplement featured a regional listings section encompassing listings for Dallas-Fort Worth, Lawton-Wichita Falls, Ada-Sherman, Amarillo and Tulsa (as well as, prior to 1982, Fort Smith-Fayetteville).

However, the regional listings generally encompassed only VHF stations (the sole exception being UPN affiliate KOKT-LP in Sulphur, Oklahoma, which was added to the section in September 1996), and as such, KDAF and KXTX are not covered here. (If anyone has daily listings for KDAF and KXTX or overnight listings for KDFW, KXAS, WFAA and KTVT during this timeframe, post them below.)

I kinda forgot that Paramount created a daily edition of Solid Gold (as seen on WHIO, mostly due to its parent Cox owning a stake in Operation Prime Time, which also originally brought us Entertainment Tonight and Star Search) during this particular season. The weekly show was still running strong at this point, and would at least for another four-five years at this point. Grant Goodeve, best known as Dick Van Patten's eldest son on "Eight is Enough" was the host of this daily show (Rick Dees was the primary host of the weekly show at this point, before Dionne Warwick returned to the series to host season five ['84-85]).

Retro: This Week in TV Guide, October 4, 1980 - MN State Edition

This week, meet one of the stars of Lou Grant, watch the big movies coming to TV, find out what the ratings system really means, read about a channel that plans nothing but news, and more!

<http://www.itsabouttv.com/2014/10/this-week-in-tv-guide-october-4-1980.html>

As always your comments, positive as well as negative, are most welcome.

This week's listing is from Friday, October 10. I'm concentrating on the stations in MSP and Duluth, and one of the first things I notice is that Channel 2 has really expanded their broadcasting schedule from the days of the early '60s. Several of the channels have different call letters than in the past, and a couple even have new affiliations. Question: is the programming any better?

Interesting to see Channel 7 out of Alexandria as a stand alone station before they were bought by Midwest Communications(owners of WCCO at the time) and became a satellite station of WCCO

Fun to see what ABC stations had scheduled for AFTER Game 3 of the NLCS. My guess is none of the after game programs aired on ABC as Game 3 of the 1980 NLCS went 11 innings and took 3:22 to play. If game 3 started right at 2 PM CT that meant it was almost 5:30 before the game ended and my guess is ABC kept till then and just went to World News Tonight at the scheduled time. FWIW I still remember not being home that night. My dad was coaching High School Football that season and despite being only in the 3rd grade I went to all our games that year and we were playing on this night.

Sorry to bump up an old topic. Not sure if they had started a 5 PM newscast in 1980 but for a long time KSTP broadcast Hogan's Heroes at 5 PM. Not sure if they had that on in 1980 though

Sorry to bump BUT according to the Minneapolis Tribune TV listings at 3 PM was Match Game. Starsky and Hutch aired from 3:30-4:30 PM Happy Days at 4:30 and Prisoner in Cell Block B at 5 PM. KSTP started THEIR 5 PM newscast in November 1980

Retro: Oklahoma City - Week of April 22, 1990

This post looks at the week of April 22-28, 1990. This week saw Oklahoma's first television station, KTVY (channel 4), change its call letters for the second time in its history, becoming KFOR-TV. The station (which began operations under the ownership of the E.K. Gaylord-owned Oklahoma Publishing Company as WKY-TV, which took its call letters from the radio station that OPUBCO owned alongside channel 4 until the latter was sold to the Evening News Association in 1976, at which point channel 4 assumed the KTVY calls) also introduced a new logo – a tri-lined, italic "4" – that remains in use as of 2019, albeit slightly modified from its original form. Much of the imaging KFOR introduced at the time harkened to its rival KOCO-TV, utilizing a graphics package consisting of moving lines similar in style to the John Christopher Burns-designed graphics package that KOCO introduced months earlier and branding as "4 Strong," a callback to the "5 Alive" moniker that KOCO used at the time.

At the time, KOCO appeared to have been in a fierce competition for first place in local news with KWTW (channel 9) at the time, while KFOR had settled into a close third place (where KOCO has tended to sit in recent years). The station's efforts to improve its news coverage under Palmer Communications ownership (which acquired KFOR from Knight-Ridder Broadcasting the year prior) – including an increased focus on in-depth reporting as well as strengthening its weather coverage and establishing the station as, according to eventual general manager Bill Katsafanis, "the CNN of Oklahoma City" by implementing the "24-Hour News Source" format – eventually had results. For the past couple of decades, KFOR has fought KWTW for first place in local news.

(If you look at the schedules of 4, 7, and 13 we had some pretty good stuff in the late afternoon. An added feature on Ch. 13 was "The Money Man," with weather guy Bob Caldwell. He called people all over the station's six-state viewing area, asking them how much was in the jackpot and what was the show or star of the day. I think WATE did this, too, and I briefly recall it on Ch. 12 in Winston-Salem.)

Well, bp, I strike again after my recent hibernation for the winter. Here it comes:

WSJK: If the North Carolina and South Carolina state system had ITV service on this day, it's a good bet channel 2 did also, unless it was a state holiday in Tennessee or something.

WBTV, 1 p.m.: Mrs. Feezor was the homemaking queen of the Carolinas in her day, I found out from clips on YouTube. Her show was so popular that WBTV's sister station in Richmond, Virginia, WWBT, carried it too, probably on a week's delay or so.

8:30 p.m.: At least we know that North Carolinians have their priorities straight. Number one, basketball, number two, basketball, and number three ... (!!)

WFBC (and others), 1:30 p.m.: From what I know, Hidden Faces was one of the shortest-lived soaps in daytime history. No one seems to know who the packager was for that serial, and I know it couldn't have been Procter and Gamble, since they put out As The World Turns, opposite on CBS. As for the time slot, it achieved the notorious nickname among industry insiders as the "Graveyard," where, among later offerings, Art Linkletter failed in a comeback effort and Jeopardy! spent the last months of the original Art Fleming run in 1974. NBC finally fixed the problem by expanding Days of Our Lives to an hour (ahead from 2 p.m.) in April 1975.

WCYB, 12:55 p.m. and WSPA, 9:25 a.m.: Women anchoring local newscasts was a rare sight before the mid-1970s, and especially on small-market stations like those. The station managers in those two places must have figured that housewives would be much more likely to view news if women were doing it-- they were only five minutes in length and probably got no station promotion (in WCYB's case, it ran over the NBC bulletin). This, friends, is ancient history by our standards these days.

WCYB, 7 p.m.: I presume this is the local version of the It's Academic franchise (made popular by the NBC O&Os back in the day).

WATE, 6 a.m.: Would you guess the Whittington show was mostly country music? Given that part of it ran against WBIR's Farm and Home, presided over by the "Old Coon Hunter," Cas Walker, it would almost have to be. Walker, an owner of an East Tennessee supermarket chain, was an outspoken political conservative who served on the Knoxville City Council and made efforts to have shut down the Highlander Folk School, a training ground for Civil Rights activists, outside Knoxville.

WATE, 7 p.m.: Walker was a Grand Ole Opry cast member; he hosted that Nashville-based syndie half-hour (from Show Biz, Inc., of course) for a couple of years before being replaced by another Opry star, Del Reeves (coincidentally a native of the North Carolina Piedmont).

WJHL: This is strange. While I can understand the station not having local in-studio color capability, why would Merv Griffin be the only non-CBS or ABC show unaffected? There was another syndie show, Truth or Consequences, at 7 p.m.--that show had been color from its 1966 (Metromedia) inception.

I need to get back to doing retros, when I can take time out from my other (expletive deleted)--well, business. Until then, ta-ta!

9:30 Peyton Place (airs on a one-hour delay, perhaps station management didn't think it appropriate for 8:30--what would they have done in the Central time zone, where it was on at 7:30?)

I guess KGUN-TV Tucson had no qualms about the content--during the '68-'69 season

Peyton Place aired Mon/Wed at 6:30 PM MT. But wait, there's more! From the start of the season until the time change in late October, it aired at 5:30! :eek: (I don't recall what KGUN did come the spring 1969 time change.)

It was a weird prime time schedule--weeknights during DST in the fall was 5:30-8 live, 8-9 delayed from 4:30. When standard time returned it was all live 5:30-9. Weekends,

IIRC, were all live in both instances, so you had prime start at 4:30 on Sat, 4 on Sun in September/October.

Weird yes, but after years of most of prime time being on 16mm film, it was perhaps a welcome change to actually see the real ABC network feed.

I would also assume Ch. 2 had in-school programs; they weren't mentioned in TV Guide. I can vouch for Ch. 29 because I was in eighth grade in Greenville at the time.

Somebody sent me a web address for a Betty Feezor show; I didn't live in Charlotte and never got to see her, although I do know that WWBT picked her up after Jefferson-Pilot bought the station in 1968. The local women's-show hosts I remember were Cordelia Kelly (WFMY), Bette Elliott (WRAL), Peggy Mann (WTVD), Mildred Alexander (WTAR/WTNR Norfolk), and Nancy Welch (WSPA), who was still going strong well into the '80s, after the others had passed on.

To give you some idea of how we rival--maybe even surpass-Kentucky--for basketball craziness, yesterday WFMY kept a countdown clock all day, showing how much time before the Duke-UNC game.

And I'm not sure that "Klassroom Kwiz" is an exact copy of "It's Academic." I know WDBJ Roanoke also had it, as did WSPA briefly, before switching to the "Hi-Q" format which is more directly like "GE College Bowl." On the Spartanburg version I seem to remember only two competing schools whereas "It's Academic" had three.

Also, don't forget that between the time NBC lost "Let's Make A Deal" to ABC in 1968 and the expansion of "Days Of Our Lives" to an hour in 1975, only one show--Bill Cullen's "Three On A Match"--lasted more than a year (three, give or take a few weeks, 1971-74) in that 1:30 "graveyard". Maybe the game was fairly good (I had the home game), or maybe it was just good ol'

Uncle Bill in the emcee's chair, but it's the nearest thing NBC could successfully program against Monty Hall and the Hughes family for nearly seven years.

I believe only three stations had carried "It's Academic"...Washington's WRC, Baltimore's WBAL and Charlottesville's WVIR..all three were sponsored by Giant Food Stores.

Of course there were "copycats" of It's Academic, some even using that very name but the DC/Baltimore/C'ville version was the original.

Its Academic also ran in Richmond, and was sponsored by Giant Food, who had stores in Richmond at the time.

It may not have been the original, but didn't WNBC have

"It's Academic"? I believe Art James hosted the New York version. Of course, the name most associated with the show is Mac McGarry, who did the Washington (and Baltimore, too, IIRC) versions.

KGUN-TV Tucson... '68-'69 season...weird prime time schedule--weeknights during DST in the fall was 5:30-8 live, 8-9 delayed from 4:30. When standard time returned it was all live 5:30-9.

I did further checking via Arizona Republic microfilm (library). The bulldog edition pages also carried Tucson listings, and while it had some goofs here and there, it painted a decent picture.

What I found was that sometime in late Jan or early Feb '69, KGUN-TV "altered course" and moved its evening syndication (Steve Allen) from 9 back to 5:30, then generally took ABC live 6:30-9, with the first hour of prime (7:30 ET/5:30 MT) delayed to 9 MT. Weekends were still all live.

In late April '69 (start of DST) things really got strange. Some shows were scattered all over the place (different night). Steve Allen was relegated to daytime, Hazel reruns added at 5:30, and prime time started at 6, generally with live net, then shows from the front part of prime played back later. Thursdays was bizarre, with some delayed TOH shows starting at BOH, and v.v. During the course of a week there was at least one local movie. And weekends were aired all live starting at 4:30 or 4.

Meanwhile, throughout the '68-'69 season KTVK Phoenix appeared to still show most nights in pattern 6:30-10, but Tuesdays (winter) was live net, with Mod Squad (7:30 ET) delayed to 9 MT. I don't know if the in pattern shows were still off of 16mm film or taped.

I also found a February 11, 1973 listing for WLWT which shows "It's Academic" on Sundays at 6:30; the schools that competed that Sunday were Middletown, McNicholas, and Deer Park high schools. I don't know who hosted.

I also recall back in '67 and '68, when I lived in Norfolk, that WAVY had "Hi-Q" and WRVA (now WWBT) Richmond had "High School Bowl," both of which ran back-to-back with "GE College Bowl". The "Hi-Q" format was identical to "College Bowl"; I never saw the Richmond show but would assume it, too, followed that format.

To bump this thread up a bit- WLOS really scored with ABC's shows-"All My Children" and "Let's Make A Deal" in the 1970s. While the other 2 stations were local at 1, 13 was scoring big with the Martin and Tyler families on "AMC" then Monty Hall. WYFF tried "Somerset," but it didn't work.

Nancy Welch would have to compete with game shows on WYFF later on. It makes me wonder why she wasn't moved to the access slot-between "Search For Tomorrow" and "As The World Turns."

First, it should be Kwik Witz, a comedy show that aired on weekends, including 1:35am on my local KOMO/4 around '97...

Second, what was Kenneth's Frequency on WAMI?

Why would an FCC-licensed over-the-air station air a porno? And at 4 o'clock on a Sunday morning?

Almost certainly not porn. Telemundo and Univision late night movies had no nudity. They were usually general-release Mexican movies that may have had sexual activity implied -- as is the case with this one -- but no way the OTA affiliates would be fed porn to air at any time.

Exactly. "La Insaciable" is simply a Mexican B&W drama film from 1947.

Kenneth's Frequency was a talk show for teenagers produced locally by WAMI.

Unusual to see multiple OTA networks airing the Olympics (notice Argentina's association football game airing on America 2, Telefe, and Canal 13)

Yeah, but that was because of soccer, the most important sport in the country. They also aired other Olympic disciplines like basketball and volleyball. Cable channel TyC Sports aired 14 hours of coverage everyday live from Atlanta (from 10am until midnight UTC-3) broadcasting most events from all countries, and the OTA stations mostly aired the disciplines where the Argentine teams were involved, and from a few foreign teams as well.

I guess this starts at 11:30am because the newspaper editor figured nobody watches TV on Sunday morning.

TV stations made use of free shows such as "This Is The Life" and "This Is The Answer." I'm sure "KREM Feature" at 2:15 is just a 15 minute film supplied by some company wanting to promote its products. Stations often used titles such as "Industry on Parade" or "Agriculture on Parade."

KXLY-TV does a half hour of news at 4:30 p.m. but nobody does any other news, not even at 11 p.m.

Official Detective at 3 p.m. was a detective series that ran from 1957 to 58, produced at Desilu Studios. It was anthology, with no week to week stars and was syndicated. So by 1959, there were reruns a station like KHQ-TV could put on at 3 p.m. on a Sunday. But there weren't many before 1960 because not all shows were on film.

At 8 p.m., NBC tries doing a variety show with Steve Allen, figuring he's more hip and TV friendly than Ed Sullivan. Allen gave up the Tonight Show for prime time. But it didn't work. Sullivan had the better guests and maybe Allen was too foreground for a variety show. Allen later tried to come back to a late night syndicated show opposite Johnny Carson and that didn't work either. He had plenty of work but mostly on game shows. I'm sure he always wanted a home run that never came, not realizing the Tonight Show could have been that home run. But in the days of early TV, I suppose a show running weeknights from 11:15 to 1 a.m. was seen as not a top notch gig.

I guess this starts at 11:30am because the newspaper editor figured nobody watches TV on Sunday morning

I thought so, too, so I double-checked with the newspaper in Missoula, Montana, which also listed Spokane's stations, and they were showing the same thing. Of course, their listings were listed in Mountain Time, but at least they were a lot more legible than the tiny listings in Spokane's then-two papers.

2—Western Theater

6—Western Theater

I meant to ask the experts here what the deal is with this. I had to double- and triple-check as I was compiling these listings to make sure I wasn't making a mistake. It's listed this way in Spokane's Spokesman-Review and Spokane Daily Chronicle, and Missoula, Montana's Missoulian.

Was "Western Theater" just a blanket term used by newspapers to refer to cheap, old western short subjects?

It might have been, but stations also used that term. I remember back in the 60s, one of our local stations had "Western Theater" on Saturday afternoons, which consisted of some old 1 hour western movie, which wasn't named in the TV Guide listing.

I think it's a safe bet to assume Western Theater means black and white Western movies that only lasted an hour or less. Usually TV Guide would say what they were. But maybe a newspaper trying to save space just lists it as Western Theater. Funny that KREM and KHQ-TV both schedule these Westerns at 2 p.m.

No station does news on Saturday, not even at 11 p.m. I thought everyone did news, at least for ten minutes, at 11 p.m., even on weekends.

Even though there weren't that many off-network series to run outside of prime time in 1959, we see quite a few on this TV listings. Annie Oakley, Wild Bill Elliott, Paris Precinct, Detective Diary, Casey Jones, Vagabond, and of course Lone Ranger are all off-network series.

Thanks for the insight on "Western Theater," guys! As someone born 21 years after this schedule, it's fascinating stuff.

No station does news on Saturday, not even at 11 p.m. I thought everyone did news, at least for ten minutes, at 11 p.m., even on weekends.

That is bizarre. I wonder what the rationale was there. It can't be skeleton weekend crews, because I know Cap'n Cy (4:30 on KREM) and the legendary Starlit Stairway (6:30 on KXLY) were both local shows. Stairway was live; not sure about Cy.

On this day, Young and the Restless expanded to a full hour airing from Noon-1pm CT. CBS had cancelled Love of Life airing last on February 1, 1980 at 3:00pm CT--the Friday before. These listings reflect KMOX showing Love of Life on a one day delay, which would have been the final episode. I just thought that is unique to see here.

Question... who carried Oprah in Richmond, WRIC or WWBT?

If I had to guess, I would lean WRIC due to its ABC affiliation (when I was young, I thought Oprah was an ABC network show due to it airing on primarily ABC affiliates) shouldn't the steelers-seahawks game be at 1:00 instead of top cops?

Actually, it aired on WWBT, because at 4pm on WRIC it aired Rosie O'Donnell, followed by Montel Williams at 5pm.

Weird, right? But I checked three different papers, and they all have the game kicking off at 3 PDT. This means there was overlap with the Bears/Jets Sunday Night Football game on TNT, which started at 5.

I wonder about the movie The Innocent in Pittsburgh and the Steelers network. Did NBC slide the movie in those areas?

The Indiana (Pennsylvania) Gazette has the game starting at 6 EDT and the movie scheduled for 9:00.

With Unsolved Mysteries and seaQuest DSV being pre-empted completely in the Pittsburgh area?

I'll have to look when I'm at my computer. I doubt they'd completely bump new episodes of either show.

I'm not finding either on the schedule that week.

Dayton was and probably still is one of the few markets where Wheel of Fortune and Jeopardy didn't run on the same station. WHIO has run Entertainment Tonight at 7:30pm since the 70s.

Noticed this again... who carried Rosie O'Donnell in Cincinnati? WLWT in the afternoon at 3pm or WCPO in the morning at 10am?

Rosie was on WKEF during the short time I worked there in 1996. Might have been 3pm as GH wasn't being carried in Dayton.

I always wondered why WICC-TV in Bridgeport was an ABC affiliate and even a DuMont affiliate, yet didn't seem to run more than a handful of ABC shows and no DuMont shows that I've ever seen.

Channel 5 in NYC is running sports and especially boxing on this date. I assume this is DuMont programming. And Channel 7 is running the ABC line up including Topper, TV Readers Digest and Voice of Firestone. Yet WICC-TV doesn't carry any shows from either network. Instead it runs "Film Shorts" which I assume are free corporate videos, and "Big Picture," a free show supplied by the U.S. Army that most stations would run on weekend mornings, not in prime time. I've seen other early TV Guides where WICC-TV might carry a really popular ABC show such as Laurence Welk. But most of the time it ignores the networks.

WICC Radio 600 had great ratings in Bridgeport with a large news staff and witty popular DJs. Bob Crane of Hogan's Heroes was one of the DJs before going to Hollywood. But WICC management seemed to be clueless on running a TV station. I suppose being on UHF doomed WICC-TV to failure and it went off the air in the 1960s.

But I wonder why the TV station was run so poorly, to the point where it didn't even bother to run most of the network shows available to it? I also wonder, with another ABC affiliate only 30 miles up the Connecticut Turnpike in New Haven, why was WICC-TV an ABC affiliate? Maybe because ABC needed whatever affiliates it could get in those days, since the best stations were already CBS or NBC affiliates. So it took WICC-TV, despite its meager resources.

The Sky's the Limit (1:30, ch. 4) was a local show Bob Stewart worked on while he was developing a show called Auction-Aire, which by November premiered on NBC as The Price Is Right.

I'm surprised as an ABC owned station, WPVI wasn't carrying the full Mike & Maty hour at 11:00am, especially for Ricki Lake's show instead. ABC allowed stations to carry Mike & Maty earlier at 10am as WTVN in Chattanooga did. The early feed ended for the 11:00am hour when The View premiered in 1997 and was a live show.

WPVI started to air all ABC programming in pattern beginning in 1997, because it was forced by the network to do that. AM Philadelphia was moved to late nights (weeknights at 12:35am) and changed its name to "Philly After Midnight" and Ricki Lake's show was picked up by WTXF, the Fox O&O station in Philly.

No WNUV Channel 54?

Very interesting how these east coast stations aired New Year's Live! at 2-3am ET. Since NYL! was for the Pacific time zone, I thought only stations in PT (and maybe MT) could run it. It was aired on KIRO Seattle (UPN) and KNDO Yakima (NBC) that year, along with KTVF Fairbanks (CBS).

Here, marklungo, is what WNUV UPN 54 aired that day....

54 - WNUV (UPN) Baltimore

12:00 pm - Movie: "Monkey Business" (1952)
2:00 pm - Movie: How to Marry a Millionaire" (1953)
4:00 pm - Movie: The Seven Year Itch (1955)
6:00 pm - Star Trek: Deep Space Nine
7:00 pm - Star Trek: The Next Generation

Sorry I didn't see this before. Thank you so much, Anabate!

You're very welcome, Marklungo!

can you do a schedule for Boston, MA for Thursday, January 25, 2001 if you can find it from that newspaper?

Can viewers in the Boston area pick up Providence stations fairly easily? I wondered if they could get WJAR 10 NBC when WBZ didn't show NBC shows in daytime. WBZ did a lot of pre-empting with NBC daytime shows and for some reason didn't like Another World but had showed Santa Barbara for awhile instead, but it looks like by this time it had dropped it also.

In the analog days, Channels 10 and 12 were easy to receive with rabbit ears in the southern suburbs, no problem with a better antenna in most of the rest of Greater Boston.

(1952) George Wallace, Aline Towne. Commando Cody battles moon men who are threatening Earth in this feature-length version of the "Radar Men from the Moon" serial.

I think i know what i watched on this day- the two wild card games, Sisters, American Gladiators and On Scene: Emergency Response. If i remember, it looked like i'd have to switch back and forth between WLOS and WYFF- until 2:41 to go in regulation, quarterback Chris Miller threw a short pass to Michael Haynes which Haynes turned into a 61-yard touchdown that broke a 20-20 tie. Of course, the Saints could have sent it to OT, but they didn't. An interception by Tim McKyer with a minute left sealed the victory, but even then the Falcons got lucky. After intercepting the ball, McKyer chose to make a wild lateral to teammate Deion Sanders, who then lateraled to Joe Fishback. A mishap during any of those laterals could have sent the game to overtime(and me the ability to watch On Scene from the beginning.)

KFDA in Amarillo, TX also aired Newscope during this time

I'm thinking WGN Chicago originated Newscope? I know there's an open of WGN in which they aired Newscope and had Steve Sanders (still at the ol' number 9) anchoring it.

KEYT aired Sesame Street because there wasn't a PBS station in Santa Barbara.

I will also clarify that the San Diego-Houston baseball game (ch. 4, 8 PM) was likely a delayed broadcast as archives showed first pitch starting at 8:30 ET.

The channel 12 of Tijuana was affiliated with Spanish International Network that later would be called Univision, until 1990 when the channel was acquired by Televisa

When Did KCET put Translators in Santa Barbara though or Cable access via KCET and KOCE so Santa Barbara can get PBS Programming since so KEYT can stop airing Sesame street.

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/KOCE-TV>

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/KCET>

K26FT-D no 26 Santa Barbara KCET

K28GY-D no 28 Santa Barbara, etc. KCET

Being a seven-year old in the early 60s in Escondido (north of San Diego) and able to get XEWT, I should have remembered that. I plum forgot about SIN.

Interesting to see how the Young and the Restless was airing at 9am on a one day delay as well as All My Children, with Another World on a one day delay at 11am. There are a lot of pre-emptions and tape delays in this market. Sale of the Century (NBC), Super Password (NBC), $25,000 Pyramid (CBS), Press Your Luck (CBS), Body Language (CBS), Ryan's Hope (ABC), Loving (ABC), and Search for Tomorrow (NBC) are all pre-empted. Also late night pre-emptions with the Tonight Show airing on WVTV instead of WTMJ and CBS Late Night pre-empted on WITI, with Nightline delayed until Midnight on WISN (from 10:30pm).

I didn't remember the after school specials on CBS and ABC competing against each other. I think in later years CBS aired theirs on Tuesday with ABC on Thursday.

Thanks for posting this.

7:30 Baseball: Atlanta at Pittsburgh

You sure about that one? Back when KDKA had the Pirates contract they almost never broadcast home games. In fact, I can't recall a single instance.

16 WQEX PBS Pittsburgh

The station was off the air between February 1985 and October 1986 because the transmitter was being repaired

Replaced is more like it. Their old transmitter was VERY old. It had belonged to WENS which broadcast on channel 16 in the mid-50's (and supposedly they had bought it used from a station in Scranton, PA). It only broadcast in black-and-white and broke down frequently. By 1985 I don't think many parts were available, and surely QED would not have wanted to continue with it.

I checked two Pittsburgh papers (Pittsburgh Press and Pittsburgh Post-Gazette) and both listed that game at 7:30 on KDKA 2.

baseball reference shows it was a Pittsburgh Home game....all 2830 showed up

<https://www.baseball-reference.com/boxes/PIT/PIT198605270.shtml>

Interesting. At the time their ownership was still concerned about driving down attendance by showing home games.

Of course the '86 Bucs were so bad, what did they have to lose?

Retro: Sydney, Monday, April 21, 1986

Comparing it with the same day in Melbourne, they're plenty of schedule differences between the commercial stations (7, 9, 10)

11-Capitol

(Capitol (the soap opera) was about to be cancelled on March 20, 1987 and Bold and the Beautiful would take it's place on CBS, which meant that As The World Turns had to move to 2 o'clock, behind Guiding Light at 3 o'clock

I saw something on a ATWT bonus from April 3, 1987 at the World of Soap Themes site and at the end of the show, Dan Region would say "Stay tuned for the Guiding Light, next on most of these CBS stations"

And before 1987 he said "Stay tuned for Capitol, next on most of these CBS stations."

KET used to offer captioned news each weeknight. KET would rotate newscast between Lexington and Louisville and occasionally WYMT Hazard. KET dropped the service in the mid nineties.

How much difference is there in the newscasts on WKYT and WYMT? Does WYMT cut away from Lexington at certain points, or is its newscast completely separate from KYT's?

I know it's been years since the change, but KSL's affiliation shift is something I haven't been able to wrap my mind around. A number of stations have flipped networks (especially in the mid-90s) but KSL being NBC and WRGB having been CBS for more than three decades are the maybe the only two that I haven't gotten used to and probably never will.

What about the PBSs? And KSTU? Hard to believe a major paper like the Deseret News listed only three stations.

WSVN 7 in Miami has been Fox since 1/1/1989, but somehow I can't shake off that NBC affiliation! Other channels have switched here, and it's also difficult to fathom; but ch 7 sticks out like a sore thumb more'n the others!

I know the feeling! It's going on nearly 20 (!!!) years that in Philly, KYW-3 is CBS and WCAU-10 is NBC..Still seems odd!

Here's an odd one....Once again going on 20 years, it seems odd in Baltimore for WMAR-2 to be ABC (after being NBC for 14 years), and WJZ-13 to be CBS (after being ABC since its inception), but WBAL-11 being NBC is just right. Those 14 years as CBS for it never seemed to fit..

Sometimes it's hard to fathom a Channel 4 being a Fox affiliate (not in Salt Lake City, per se) - and yet, here we are...

By the way, I have a feeling 4 and 5 pre-empted their networks' Friday night lineups.

And 4 didn't clear "Nightline"?

Did not include the independent stations - Well I do not have that exact date but I have a date from a few months before giving an idea of what these stations looked like

20 KSTU (Ind./Fox) - In 1988 the intellectual unit of KSTU moves to Channel 13 - and soon will be sold to Fox outright. Today that station is owned by Local TV LLC

KOOG had a pretty interesting schedule, especially with cool action cartoons like Galaxy Rangers, Robotech, Centurions and Jayce and the Wheeled Warriors. Too bad they didn't get better ratings.

KRON-TV airing Regis and Kathy Lee. This was the final year that KRON aired that show until ABC the owners of the show moved it to KGO-TV 1999-2000.

Another World only lasted two more months. KRON had dropped it in the spring of 1993, and KICU picked it up.

Actually KRON dropped Another World on June 18, 1998, and KICU picked it up on July 6, 1998.

For a market as small as Fresno, even back then, they sure had plenty of TV stations.

I saw the KMPH listing for the Lakers-Sonics telecast (two pretty good teams back--in fact, Seattle won the Western Conference title that season), but didn't the Golden State Warriors have (or ever had) their games televised in the Fresno market? I could sworn I saw a listing once for a Warriors telecasts in Fresno.

Interesting about KFSN it was a Capital Cities station prior to their surprise purchase of ABC in 1985(which the couldn't have done without the help their biggest owned station, WPVI in Philly). When Capital Cities merged they decided to keep KFSN, and they changed its affiliation from CBS to ABC, in process selling off historic ABC O&O WXYZ in Detroit(Remember the O&O limit went from seven to twelve, and they were still over the limit with the merger).

Capital Cities/ABC would end up being bought out by Disney and with the ushering of the Telecom Act of '96, KFSN still remains to this day an ABC O&O in Market #55

According to Wikipedia, KMPH signed on October 11, 1971, while KAIL opened in 1961 (though I thought it went on the air earlier than that).

Actually I got some old Fresno listings from the archives online. KAIL TV did sign on in 1961 and was on the air from 2 to 11 PM most days. It had a mix of old movies and 40's and 50's syndicated shows and very old cartoons and some local productions back in the 60's. The station never went color in the 60's or early 70's. The TV station was co-owned with an AM FM combo station as well. In 1971 KMPH signed on and they took the better programming and KAIL found it tough to compete. They were on the air from Noon to midnight. Still no color though most of their movies and shows were black and white anyway.

In 1973 the station had financial problems as well as maintenance issues with equipment. The station went dark April of 1973. They sold programming they had left to KMPH. Back then an owner could turn the station dark and hold onto the license which KAIL's owners did. In 1976 the station got color equipment and a new transmitter and went back on the air October of 1976. Initially just 2 hours a day from 6 to 8 PM with shows they ran free and public affairs shows. By 1977 the station expanded but still did not go on till 6 PM and off by Midnight. They sold 3 hours to TBN and ran Praise The Lord along with free public affairs shows. Soon after they added PTL Club with Jim Bakker in the Spring of 77 and began 4 PM sign on and then expanded to 2 PM adding 700 Club which moved from KMPH.

So by late in 77 the station was on the air 10 hours a day with religion which they sold time to air 8 hours a day. Sunday they ran a ton of televangelists. Though the owners were not religious oriented they used religion to get the station on the air and pay the bills. By 78 the station was about 12 hours a day on at NOON. They added Bill Cosby (his 60's early 70's sitcom) and Little Rascals then. By 1979 they signed on at 10 AM and added a few old sitcoms from the 50's and a couple drama shows like I Spy and Fugitive and very old movies. The station still ran religion about 2/3 of the time. In 1981 the station expanded to sign on at 7 AM and ran religion till 2, very old shows till 8 and religion after 8. In 1982 they expanded secular shows and pulled religion back to 7 AM to 2 PM and after 10 PM. In 83 the station began to get more viable entertainment shows and got into the cartoon business and by 1985 moved away from religion cutting it to mid mornings only and began 20 hour a day operations. So KAIL did struggle for a while but slowly grew. Still they spent less money than competitors for programming.

Weren't KMPH, channel 26, and KAIL, channel 53, around yet in 1976?

KMPH was around since 1971 and was a conventional independent. KAIL was around from 1961 to 1973. They went dark in 1973 and sold programming to KMPH. Their owners had an AM and FM radio station and kept them on the air. They did not turn the Channel 53 license to the FCC. They were allowed back then to hold onto the license for some reason. Likely because there was little interest in it. The station went back on the air October of 1976 with an hour of public affairs shows run twice a day giving the stations 2 hours a day on the air. This was done to get the station back on. Then the station began selling time. Soon after they added 3 hours to run TBN's Praise The Lord (which they locally would cut back to 2 hours), then The PTL Club for 2 hours plus an hour to repeat the first hour, then a double run of the 700 Club later in 77. The station very gradually expanded the day initially adding a couple low budget entertainment shows to the schedule. They station was about 15 hours a day by 1980 and most of the day by 1982. The station added more sitcoms and cartoons by 1984 and cut back on religion by then.

Is that date right? The Fun Factory debut is listed as June 14, 1976. The Gong Show debuted the same day. It was The Magnificent Marble Machine airing on NBC at 11AM PDT on 4/15/76.

Regarding "Sesame Street", probably not a mistake. It aired on commercial stations in a lot of markets where there was no public station.

You were right Sesame Street did air on a commercial station in Fresno till 1977. Fresno did not get their own full time PBS station till 1977, Surprised that KAIL did not affiliate with PBS in their doldrum years.

Nothing for 61 WRIP TV - anyhow even then that station was one wierd station with plenty of local religion and syndicated Christian preaching and teaching and very little entertainment. I believe they stayed that way until the Fall of 1981. There is a schedule from the Summer of 1981 where WRIP TV was still nearly all religious. By Summer of 82 the station was half and half - my guess fall of 81, WRIP TV began acquiring some real programming.....Only way to get a schedule from the 1981 era it seems is to go to Chattanooga and visit a library and look at some old microfilm I guess.

By 1981 TV Guide had a Knoxville-Chattanooga edition; you can look at some of those to see what Channel 61 was doing. It was out of the Atlanta edition for a time but was back in at least by the time it became the Fox affiliate in Chattanooga. One station that never came back to the Atlanta edition was Chattanooga's PBS affiliate, WTCI/45.

Some of you in my part of the country may recall that in August 1980 two editions of TV Guide (North Carolina and Carolina-Tennessee) were split into five:

Eastern North Carolina

Charlotte (later Central North Carolina)

Greenville/Spartanburg/Asheville

Knoxville/Chattanooga

Bristol/Kingsport/Johnson City

Around that time the two UHF stations in Chattanooga were dropped from the Atlanta edition although, as I said, Channel 61 was restored. That turned out to be very convenient, as I found out when I went to Dalton, GA, to do some research back in the '90s. Dalton's cable system carried all the Chattanooga stations, but only WSB, WAGA, and WXIA from Atlanta (so two ABC, two Fox, and two NBC stations, but only one CBS--WDEF.) Dalton got the Atlanta edition, but if you went to the next county north (and the last Georgia county before Chattanooga) you got the Knoxville/Chattanooga edition. I suppose it didn't hurt to have both, if you could afford it, because TV Guide was beginning to price itself out of range by that time (1999).

Slightly off-topic, but it was rather sad to see TV Guide go from its longtime 15 cent copy price to about $2.49 by the time it quit publishing the digest-size version. And in the later, Murdoch years, TV Guide was far less informative and more tabloidy.

Channel 61 became WDSI early in 1983. It was back in the Atlanta edition by 1984. I have a July 1984 edition of TV Guide and WDSI is in there. So I have TV 61 Chattanooga Schedules on this board till Summer of 1981... None from Summer of 1981 till Summer of 82...Have a Summer of 82 on this board..But nothing from between Summer of 82 and Spring of 84. I have a Summer of 84 listing of WDSI and plenty thereafter.

Again, if you can find any Knoxville-Chattanooga issues from 1981 to 1984 you'll find Channel 61. A good place to start would be on ebay; there's a vendor in Knoxville who calls herself nostalgiagirl1988 and is where I get most of my Carolina-Tennessee TV Guides. She usually has some Knoxville-Chattanoogas as well.

Click to expand...

Of course, there was a three-fold reason WTCI/45 got left out of the new Atlanta edition in the early Eighties: 1) its signal was almost certainly the weakest of Chattanooga's OTA stations of that time, since its licensee then was the Tennessee Board of Education, meaning it had no autonomy to turn up the juice on its stick; 2) Georgia Public TV having a translator on channel 18 (licensed to Chatsworth) covered most if not all the counties in the northwestern corner of the state, making WTCI superfluous there; and 3) the old 15% rule kicked in here; I've never seen a coverage map of WTCI, but I suspect the signal did not carry much farther south of Dalton, and certainly not down to the northwestern metropolitan Atlanta fringe, which would have been necessary to make it.

And bp is right as rain about the quality of TVG deteriorating from the golden Annenberg days, the years when it was America's largest-subscribed-to publication by a large margin. But then, again, that's the raison d'etre for this forum. We can reminisce to our heart's content while digging up our old faves on Hulu, Netflix, YouTube or wherever--on demand, not waiting for Nick at Nite or TV Land like we had to do back in the Nineties.

bp, thanks for providing us with our word of the day: "tabloidy." (!!!)

I think this was the first week after the WSB/WXIA affiliation switch.

More accurately, it was the week of the switch; 2 and 11 made the change Monday, September 1, even though they had swapped some daytime shows during the summer. Because the NBC soap "Texas" debuted Aug. 4, four weeks before the switch, Ch. 2 passed on it and 11 picked it up, along with "Another World" and "The Doctors." David Letterman was passed up by Ch. 2 as well (they'd contracted to carry Mike Douglas when Westinghouse replaced him with John Davidson (Ch. 5) and he had to find a new syndicator), and he ended up on 11 Alive before the switch officially took place. In exchange, Ch. 2 got "General Hospital," "One Life To Live," "Edge Of Night," "Family Feud," and "Love Boat" reruns; everything else (day and night) changed Sept. 1. Interestingly, there was one soap Ch. 2 didn't give up until it had to: "Days Of Our Lives," while 11 Alive hung onto "All My Children" and "Ryan's Hope" to the bitter end.

IIRC, there was surprisingly little confusion about the switch. 11 Alive set up a telephone hotline to answer viewers' questions, but only about 600-700 people called, which seems like a surprisingly small number for a market the size of Atlanta. And I think it went off more smoothly than the CBS/Fox switch of 1994, seeing as how CBS went down to the wire getting WGCL to take the affiliation.

Thank you for posting; that seems so long ago that WTOG Channel 44 (owned by Hubbard Broadcasting at the time) was a regional independent. Their 10PM newscasts at the time were the only 10PM newscasts in the area and it was a very good newscasts, with many local (real news as opposed to feature stories) news segments, weather and sports.

The Tampa Bay Area was still fortunate enough to have two PBS stations, WUSF (University of South Florida) and WEDY channel 3; Channel 16-WUSF signed off for the final time about 18 months ago, when the repacking of channels started.

It was also when the St. Pete Times (now the Tampa Bay Times) had a great Sunday TV magazine and daily listings as well; not there are no TV listings except the times of the local games in the sports section and if you want a Sunday TV magazine, it's a nationally produced contracted magazine at an additional cost that is very slim on the local listings, only listing some of the local stations. :(

You're welcome! One of the things I liked the most about this schedule is that the independent stations had pretty good programming at the time.

I agree with you! I love how many independent stations had healthy programming. Wish many could return to those roots in this age.

What ?. No syndicated game shows at night in Albuquerque then?. Did anyone before and after this date carry Family Feud PM, The Joker's Wild and Tic Tac Dough in Albuquerque. What did Albuquerque outlets have against syndicated game shows then?. This is as bad as Fort Wayne and Toledo not having TJW and TTD then. But nighttime WOF in 1983 and Jeopardy's return in 1984 changed all TV stations' thoughts about syndie game shows.

Did KOB ever carry daytime Wheel from NBC?.

Look at Merv Griffin on an indie station.

What a weird market.

Weird indeed!. In Sacramento, Merv's syndie show was on KOVR-TV, then KXTV, then KTXL and at the end KQCA-TV (then KSCH -TV) when Merv ended his show in 1986, the same year 58 signed on.

During Merv Griffin's last or last two years, he was also on WOR-TV 9 NYC (now WWOR TV My 9).

If had KOAT-TV had dropped movies by the time 14 and 23 signed on, then there would have been room on Channel 7 for TTD, TJW and maybe nighttime Family Feud and another game show.

Kind of unusual, considering that Merv was synonymous with WNEW ch.5's prime time during his Metromedia years.

Yes. And WOR in 1986 was owned by RKO before they sold all their TV holdings.

However, when Merv's first syndicated show (by Westinghouse) began in 1965, WPIX-11 ran the program in its first year before it went on to WNEW. So Merv was seen, at one time or another, on all three NYC indies, plus two of the networks (his 1962-63 NBC daytime show and, of course, his 1969-72 late night CBS endeavor).

Although, when he was on CBS , he was right up there with NBC's Johnny Carson , he just couldn't make a dent in his ratings. And CBS destroyed every Merv Griffin show The Big Eye did.

Jame, when you can , study the scheds listed and pick which damn station should've have syndie games in 1982, and what you would've have done to put Pyramid and Child's Play on in AIBQ.

OOPS, In the words of Britney Spears, I did it again, I goofed I guess that day above was the last week for ALice and One Day At A Time reruns, so I guess KRQE DID air Pyramid and Child's Play. I was thinking of Tattletales 1982-84 which 13 did not air, also the CBS soap Capitol.

KOB should've put WOF on instead of The Doctors which was on life support then, but it died opposite Family Feud and Y&R or local and CNN Headline News.

Merv Griffin was syndicated by Metromedia and King World together from the 70's till March of 86 when Fox bought the Metromedia stations. Fox also bought Metromedia production facilities as well. WNEW TV ran Merv Griffin in prime time until mid March of 1986 when Fox bought the station in a corporate deal with the rest of them except for WCVB 5 Boston which went to hearst. When Channel 5 was sold to Fox calls changed to WNYW. They also dropped Merv Griffin locally and WOR TV picked it up in their daytime schedule. Fox replaced Merv with movies from the 20th Century Fox library that other stations did not have broadcast rights to. Fox was preparing for launching their own network which they began very gradually 6 months later. Fox did continue producing Merv Griffin in 1986 while dropping it from their own stations. This was Metromedia's baby not Fox's. The show was getting lower and lower ratings so Fox ended the Merv Griffin Show early September of 1986, partly because of lack of interest. Most of the prime stations the show aired on were dropping it. 6 WPVI TV had Merv till the end but was dropping it for the then new Oprah Winfrey Show.

WNEU was Pittsburgh's first LPTV station. They went on the air in late '86 or early '87 as I recall. They broadcast with a few hundred watts from the WDUQ tower (now WESA) on Mount Washington. Later they boosted power a bit and moved out to the original WJAS site in Beechview. Their programming consisted largely of old movies, many of them foreign films with subtitles. Eventually though they would become all home shopping. They are no longer around. I believe they missed a filing deadline for converting to digital.

I find it interesting that WJAC is listed but not WWCP, the Johnstown Fox affiliate on VHF 8 that signed on about the same time as WNEU. That was watched by many people in the Pittsburgh area. At our house we could get WWCP but never could receive WJAC.

Robert Bianco, the guest mentioned for the 5:30 show on WQED, was at the time the TV and Radio Critic for the old Pittsburgh Press.

The two-hour late Sunday night blocs of Hawaii Five-O on KDKA are well remembered and were popular for many years.

I should note that the late, great Warren Zevon was scheduled to be the music guest on the first Late Night, and the newspapers reflect this. For unknown reasons, his appearance was scrubbed, and he wouldn't end up appearing on the show until September 27th. He ended up being a frequent guest on both Late Night and the Late Show. Dave was a huge fan; he even guested on the song "Hit Somebody" on Warren's penultimate album, My Ride's Here.

Enjoy every sandwich.

Robbie's wedding preparations prove pure torture, especially if Tina's dad and twin mates the cops have their wicked prankster way, which only appeals to dad's reduced mental abilities, making him a worthless best man, her ma is pathologically vain. Syd ignores a hint to buy Robbie a microwave and gets nearly scolded when she pretends to know 'obviously' what her 'kid brother' -the offensive phrase- wants, her alternative crystal punch bowl breaks in the commotion. After the idiotic in-laws' coarseness chases him from his own bachelor party, getting blamed for dad joining in their stripper fun by his haughtily (but badly) 'advising' sisters gets too much even for gentle Robbie. Still the wedding is serene and moving, even dad's speech till he loses his thread and clumsily slaps the groom a bloody nose. Dr. Sydney Hansen: Melina Kanakaredes, Robbie Hansen: Seth Peterson.

36—Dark Angel

"Boo." It's Halloween. Joshua, seeing people dressed up as monsters, believes it the perfect night for him to experience the outside world. 13—Once and Again

"Destiny Turns on the Radio." A boy in the school play asks Jesse out. Grace is less than happy with the news, because she thought that the boy was flirting with her during rehearsal. Karen is upset that Rick didn't left her out of the loop on this. Les takes over a talk show after the host leaves following an argument between the two. He asks for Lily's opinion on a call (while on the air), which leads to her taking over the show that night, and a once-a-week gig after that. Rick and Lily argue about her discussing Jesse's "date" when it hasn't been decided if he'll let her go. Grace thinks about quitting the play (over her sorta-feelings for Tad and the whole Tad-Jesse thing), but that's not what she tells Mr. Dmitri. He convinces her to stay. Grace is irate that Lily offered to loan Jesse Lily's pearl necklace when she wouldn't let Grace borrow it earlier. Grace is starting to think that Lily likes her stepdaughter Jesse more than her. Elliot Stabler: Christopher Meloni, Olivia Benson: Mariska Hargitay, John Munch: Richard Belzer, Roger Berry: Kevin Chamberlin, Dr. Melinda Warner: Tamara Tunie, Arthur "Artie" Blessard: Ken Marks, Edna Dumas: Marni Nixon.

I'd be interested to what the turnaround time was for Late Show with David Letterman. Friday nights show appearing on late Saturday night/Sunday or would it have been from a few days before?

I suspect the program aired in an one-day delay (the paper didn't list the guests' names). Nine carried Dave's show Tuesday through Saturday, and also aired CBS' 48 Hours and ABC's Primetime Live during the week.

It wasn't long after this that WBTV moved Top O' The Day to 11:30 am, Price Is Right to 10:30 am (a day behind) and The Young and the Restless to 12:30 pm in pattern. Top O' The Day ran at 11:30 am until it was cancelled in 1992, when TPIR moved back to 11am in pattern.

WPTF (28, the NBC affiliate at the time) struggled in the ratings, and WECT was the Wilmington's leading station and it was on a better place in the dial (VHF 6)

10.30 FILM: BLAZING SADDLES (1974). Shown by the BBC last Monday, and wearing thin after all these years, this spoof on western movies contains just enough witty visual and dialogue gags to sustain it through its desperately manic stages. 4—Will & Grace

"Grace 0, Jack 2000." Grace has made up her mind to break up with Ben because she's convinced their relationship is going nowhere -- but his charm and refusal to call it quits tempt her to reconsider. Meanwhile, Jack's latest and most outrageous cabaret gig is an absolute bomb until he frantically works an unwilling Will into the act by mercilessly ridiculing his attending friend's most-private confessions. Will Truman: Eric McCormack, Grace Adler: Debra Messing, Karen Walker: Megan Mullally, Jack McFarland: Sean Hayes, Ben Doucette: Gregory Hines, Stuart: Jason Stuart.

He claims to have found a job but is in trouble with some loan sharks but Maya is completely skeptical. When he is supposedly beaten up and winds up in a hospital, she thinks it's a con because all of the hospital staff were at the bistro that she and Elliot met Donnie, thinking they were there to make it appear that they were in bistro. So Maya attacks Donnie. Maya Gallo: Laura San Giacomo, Jack Gallo: George Segal, Dennis Finch: David Spade, Kevin Liotta: Brian Posehn, Doctor: James Michael Tyler.

10—Diagnosis Murder

"By Reason of Insanity." A bum is brought into Community General. Mark recognizes him as his former student George Lawson, once a brilliant medical mind, now a mental mess, who raves on about what sounds like Father Seton, but his whole speech is riddled in some gibberish. Lawson is found again on the beach near the site of the murder on Richard Fielding and is arrested, but even his degree of schizophrenic paranoia and dysfunctional state do not constitute legal insanity. Jesse has a go at Lawson's slang-type associations. Ethan Foster, the widow Cynthia Fielding's lover, is told by his wife Sophie that she knows he is Richard's murderer, but she will spare their teenage son Elliot the shame of his father's trial if he signs over all his wealth and full custody in a divorce. When a prisoner starts choking while in George's cell, George correctly diagnoses the problem and instructs Steve on how to save him. Jesse figures out what George's gibberish really means, and his computer finds who fits Father Seton, starting a new chain of events. Dr. Mark Sloan: Dick Van Dyke, Dr. Jesse Travis: Charlie Schlatter: Steve Sloan: Barry Van Dyke, Ethan Foster: William Converse-Roberts, George Lawson: Peter Gregory, Sophie Foster: Kaitlin Hopkins.

April 10th was Good Friday, the day peace came to Ireland. Surely ABC, CBS and NBC would have shown extra newscasts.

For the Spanish-Language Classic Jesus films from the period of 1991 through 2002, if I were KWHY 22 I would transmit El beso de Judas (1953) and El proceso de Cristo (1965). Galavisión María Magdalena (1945) and Reina de Reinas (1945). Telemundo Jesús de Nazareth (1942) and El mártir del calvario (1952) in Good Friday.

Interesting that "Topper" was still being shown at 4:40 am, a 1950s sitcom on KABC-TV in 1998. By 1998 most of the black and white shows were gone. I also see "Perry Mason" (3 am), "I Love Lucy" (11 & 11:30am) and "The Honeymooners" (5 am). But those shows were considered classics. Topper was OK for its time but had pretty much disappeared by the 1970s, even in a large market like LA where four independent stations kept running older shows after they had disappeared in most other markets that had only one or two independents. I grew up in NYC, with three independent stations, where I remember seeing early black and white shows, decades after they had come off the networks. I became a Burns & Allen fan that way.

Topper was also the last black and white show still running on WABC-TV NYC. It ran early Sunday, after the late movies were over but before the Sunday morning shows began. It was WABC-TV's only black and white show. I think it was still running into the early 2000s.

"Order and Disorder: 1825-1865" (Part 2 of seven) recalls a period of tremendous growth (New York was "one gigantic construction zone," says writer John Steele Gordon) and ferment. Most of the new arrivals were Irish immigrants (100,000 by 1842—and that was before the potato famine), and the subsequent overcrowding led to the construction of Central Park (1857-58). But that didn't quell the ferment, which exploded in 1863 with the racially charged draft riots. "It was the largest incident of civil disorder in U.S. history," notes historian Mike Wallace. "It was the devil's own work," wrote Walt Whitman. (Repeat)

"Four Stories." Unusual episode about four separate plots told in chronological order rather than concurrently as in previous episodes. "About Last Night": Left behind at the ski lodge, Pacey and Joey are forced to go home by bus where they talk about their sordid night before where he is insecure about his performance and she brings up her own insecurity. "The Big Picture": In Capeside, Dawson is forced to face Mr. Brooks' death by going through his belongings with Gretchen. But soon, Dawson gets surprised to find out that he is Mr. Brooks' will and finds himself with a lot of money in his hands, and no idea of what to do with it. "Excess Baggage": As punishment for breaking into her hotel mini-bar and getting drunk during the class ski trip, Jen is forced to see a psychologist where she can discuss her "inner teen issues." But Jen finds the psychologist, Dr. Tom Frost, to know more about Jen than she does about herself. "Seems Like Old Times": Joey's path with Dawson's collide when they spend an evening catching up on the past weekend and its many happenings. Dawson thinks Joey is different in some way. Here, he asks her the big question: did she or did she not have sex with Pacey during the ski trip? WFAA-TV Coverage

The CBS promo for Route 66 (7:30 PM, ch. 4) which aired in an ID break during As The World Turns ("Follow Tod and Linc on a mountain adventure with a pretty girl") indicated that the episode was supposed to be "A Cage In Search of a Bird," but listings seem to contradict that. So who was to be right? With everything pre-empted for four days, we'll never know.

I'd err on the side of the CBS promo. It was probably a last-minute schedule change.

The date of this listing I believe is from 1968. Let's Make a Deal is still shown on NBC (ch. 4, 1:30 PM); it moved to ABC on December 30, 1968. Personality, Eye Guess, You Don't Say! and The Match Game are listed as well; they would all be gone by the following September. Also, the cartoons ABC (ch. 7) runs are clearly from the 1968 season. If it had been 1969, then shows like Smokey Bear, The Cattanooga Cats and Hot Wheels would have been part of the line-up. The prime time line-ups also reflect the 1968-69 season.

Has to be 1968. No Sesame Street which was very much around by this time in 1969. Also a load of cartoons on WABC TV but I read this is Friday after Thanksgiving and I guess ABC had cartoons for a special for that day. But by 1969 Channel 9 had Popeye weekday mornings. Channel 5 started cartoons at 7 AM. Petticoat Junction was on Channel 5 by 1969 and they would not be resting that in the fall fresh in syndication.

The cartoons on channel 7 was an annual thing ABC did the day after Thanksgiving. They started that practice in 1965 and continued it for almost three decades.

no football?

This is definitely from 1968 because 11/28/69 was a Saturday.

I had forgotten that Donald O'Connor tried doing a syndicated variety/talk show, similar to Mike Douglas and Merv Griffin. WFSB 3 Hartford ran it at 10:30 a.m. WNEW-TV 5 New York ran it at 11 p.m. I don't think it lasted more than a year.

from Jornal do Brasil

1 hour of airtime was given to the PMB (Partido Municipalista Brasileiro) that night due to the upcoming presidential elections held in November that year; one of the candidates for that party was Silvio Santos, the owner of TVS (channel 11, now SBT). Santos' candidacy was subsequently scrapped.

12:00 Reflections

An amendment to the WNEW-TV schedule:

The 1:30 PM repeat of the film aired at 10 AM on The 10 O'Clock Movie, went by the umbrella of the Late Lunch Movie.

From what I read, after 2 PM WNDT carried CBS News' coverage of the JFK assassination.

This may have been asked before (but not answered definitively, IIRC), but what aired on 5, 9, and 11 once the JFK story took over the network affiliates? Did any of them repeat any network coverage, do any local coverage, did they even stay on the air, etc.?

I can only presume that the "indies" primarily repeated coverage from CBS and/or NBC - but I doubt ABC, especially given their news operation's public access-style setup of the time and uber-dead-last ratings when the dust settled. "Public access-style setup," come to think of it, seems to have been the description of WOR-TV's facilities and production values in all the years when RKO General ruled the roost. The only one of the indies who had any true commitment to news (such as it was) in those days was WPIX, with the likes of local anchor/news director John Tillman and national/world anchor Kevin Kennedy. 'PIX may well have juxtaposed the network(s) feed with local reportage. This was less than 3.5 years before WNEW launched The 10 O'Clock News, so their news operation pretty much didn't exist back then - and WOR-TV's news outfit pretty much consisted those days of WOR Radio's John Wingate, they didn't really have anything resembling an actual news operation until 1970.

...of course, at the time WPIX-TV/11 and WPIX/101.9 (the FM station had been acquired a few weeks prior to the assassination, IIRC) were co-owned with the New York Daily News ("New York's Picture Newspaper," hence the call sign)...

A few other mods to this schedule:

- The 9:30 A.M. and 1:30 P.M. airings on Channel 9 were under the All-Star Movie banner.
- The 10 A.M. movie on Channel 11 was shown under the umbrella of The Morning Movie.

To bring this back to life . . . a look at the Dec. 2, 1963 issue of Broadcasting magazine shows that, besides WNDT, CBS News' coverage of the JFK assassination and subsequent funeral was simulcast on WOR-TV and WPIX. WNEW-TV, on the other hand, went with ABC's.

Inside Edition was an hour-long syndicated program back then on KCAL?

American Journal aired at 7:30pm on KCAL. I forgot listing it.

Do you really need to quote the whole long post just for one sentence? The reply button would be better utilized ;)

Wheel and Jeopardy! now air on KMIR 36 in Palm Springs.

WATR 20-NBC Waterbury

7:00 NBC News (c/likely OTA feed from WNBC)

Was WATR's network feed simply an off-air pickup of WNBC?

If you've ever had to work somewhere that had only such a feed, or even a "dirty" master control feed via microwave, you really, really, couldn't wait for the day you got your own Telco line.

Channel 8 in those days was WNHC for New Haven, Connecticut. Our market had two NBC stations at the time, since channel 30 of New Britain wouldn't get their power increase until 1978 (around the time they became WVIT-TV). Channel 3 became WFSB-TV in 1974 when Post Newsweek bought the station. I'm trying to remember when WRLP-TV of Greenfield, MA went off the air.

WRLP-TV Channel 32, Greenfield, MA left the air at 11:00 PM, Sunday night April 9th, 1978. It coincided with the last game of the 1977-1978 Bruins season. The WRLP transmitter was crated and shipped to Salt Lake City, Utah for the building of KSTU-TV, Channel 20 (now on Channel 13).

WATR-TV basically used an over-the-air feed from WNBC-TV, Channel 4, New York for any NBC programming. I'm sure WATR-TV had a backup OTA feed from WHNB-TV Channel 30 from New Britain. AT&T lines were very expensive at the time. WATR-TV had no local color well into the 70's. So, in order for Channel 20 to get network color, they had to pass-through using a composite feed directly over the air. No doubt they had some phasing issues (color-wise). One good thing about WATR using an OTA feed from WNBC-TV, they had access to full-quality 15 kHz audio from WNBC (being the key station of the NBC Network), unlike most network affiliates who still had the standard flat sounding 5 kHz phone-lines. It wasn't until January, 1978 when all network affiliates switched to 15 kHz phone lines.

Presenters for the network news updates...

ABC

11:25am-Marlene Sanders

CBS

12:25pm-Joseph Benti

3:25pm-Douglas Edwards

NBC

10:25am-Nancy Dickerson

12:55pm-Edwin C. Newman

4:25pm-Floyd Kalber

And the names of the newscasts . . .

- ABC: News with the Woman's Touch (sponsored by Purex)
- CBS: CBS Mid-Day News (12:25p), CBS Afternoon News (3:25p)
- NBC: [name here] with the News (the 10:25a Dickerson and 12:55p Newman updates); apparently Kalber's didn't have a name that I know of.

Channel 8 in those days was WNHC for New Haven, Connecticut. Our market had two NBC stations at the time, since channel 30 of New Britain wouldn't get their power increase until 1978 (around the time they became WVIT-TV). Channel 3 became WFSB-TV in 1974 when Post Newsweek bought the station.

And then WNHC-TV's owner of record at the time was the Radio and Television Division of Triangle Publications; WTIC-TV's license-holder, as between c.1964 and the 1974 sale to Post-Newsweek and accompanying call letter change, was Broadcast-Plaza, Inc. (derived from the name of their complex at Broadcast House, 3 Constitution Plaza, that opened in the early '60's), even though Travelers Insurance was still, up to 1974, the parent; Travelers Broadcasting Service Corp. was license-holder prior to c.1964 (contrary to any NYC retro TV listings placed on here up to this point). WATR's owner was WATR, Inc.; about 1974-75 the license holder moniker was changed to Thomas Television, Inc. (named after the late Harold Thomas who owned the station). As to the other main Connecticut station (and other NBC affiliate), prior to the sale of WHNB to Viacom, its owner was Connecticut Television, Inc. (one of whose principals, Herbert Scheftel, was the "-Tel" in Paterson, NJ station WXTV Channel 41's first owner, Trans-Tel Corp., as between its 1968 sign-on and the acquisition around 1972 by Spanish International Communications Corp.) WEDH's owner was the Connecticut Educational Television Corp.

Going to Boston, besides "Group W" Westinghouse which owned WBZ-TV, and RKO General which owned what was then WNAC-TV (as well as WHCT), we have WHDH, Inc., license-holder of record for the first Channel 5, as owned by the Herald-Traveler Corp. In Springfield, WHYN was owned by WHYN

Stations Corp., and WWLP (and WRLP in Greenfield) by Springfield Television Broadcasting Corp. (All info courtesy contemporary Broadcasting Yearbooks, as on David Gleason's website/database.)

It wasn't until January, 1978 when all network affiliates switched to 15 kHz phone lines.

On exactly what day in 1978 do you remember the audio switchover taking place? January 30 or thereabouts?

It was around late January, early February 1978 when all of the telco lines changed to 15 kHz. However, back in June of 1973, ABC experimented with full-quality audio for a week or so. WCVB-TV, Channel 5 in Boston and WTEV Channel 6 in New Bedford, MA used a land-based microwave feed. Thus, they sounded just like the local audio of WABC-TV Channel 7 in New York. It sounded great. But, it was only for a brief period and then back to the 5 kHz of network audio. Later, WPRI-TV Providence (back then as CBS affiliate in '74) used a similar microwave feed from WCBS-TV and stayed with it for the duration of their affiliation until 1977. Thus, they had local quality audio.

The upgraded 15 kHz audio on the Telco lines in '78 was called either a "diplexer" or "sound-in-synch."

I didn't know that WTNH didn't carry Dark Shadows. But why wasn't General Hospital in color on then-ABC WHDH-7? Broadcasted in B&W Kinescope?

Either that, or a typo on the part of TV Guide. But it seems Channel 7 (which was actually WNAC at the time; as of 1968 the WHDH calls, as you see, were on the first Channel 5 whose FCC license was ultimately yanked and went off the air for the last time in 1972, to be replaced by another station which remains there today) did air GH on delay.

And it is ironic that the first WHDH (Channel 5) was a CBS affiliate - given that in the first five years of Channel 7's having those calls (1990-95), it too was CBS affiliated.

The upgraded 15 kHz audio on the Telco lines in '78 was called either a "diplexer" or "sound-in-synch."

I've generally heard the term "diplexer" used in terms of this upgrade of network feed telco audio.

I didn't know that WTNH didn't carry Dark Shadows. But why wasn't General Hospital in color on then-ABC WHDH-7? Broadcasted in B&W Kinescope?

Channel 8 did not carry Dark Shadows at this time. I think they may have carried it before it got really popular. I saw an interview with Dan Curtis who said that ABC affiliates wanted to carry Dark Shadows when it got extremely popular, but ABC would only let them carry it live and wouldn't let them carry it at a different time. I guess that channel 8 wasn't agreeable to that, so that is probably why it wasn't seen in CT. As popular as the show was, I always was really uncertain why channel 8 didn't carry such a ratings hit. It never made sense. In 1970 channel 8 did start carrying Dark Shadows, but by then the show was losing steam and was cancelled in April of 1971.

ABC should have dropped their demand to carry Dark Shadows live in pattern. Given the competition (You Don't Say with Tom Kennedy on NBC and Edge of Night on CBS) they should have dropped that demand.

What kind of ratings did Dark Shadows get nationally against such solid soap opera and game show competition? All this anecdotal recollection of how "popular" and what a "hit" it was don't pass the sniff test with me. ABC's prime time hits were few and far between in the '60s. Was it doing any better in the daytime? It all seems like the revisionist history that has turned the original "Star Trek" into a huge TV hit in many people's eyes. It was no such thing at any time during the span of the original series. Only syndication and sequels made it so.

The program was sort of in the middle when it came to overall ratings, but it was big with younger viewers and sometimes demographics is more important.

In Atlanta, WAIL (later WQXI)/channel 11 aired Dark Shadows at 5:15 PM after a local movie which started at 3:30.

In Traverse City-Cadillac, NBC affiliate WPBN aired Dark Shadows in pattern according to a Ludington Daily News schedule I posted on here from 1969 (that market didn't have its own ABC affiliate until 1971) while Grand Rapids' ABC affiliate WZZM pre-empted it for Bozo (WZZM was the default ABC affiliate for portions of the Traverse City market).

So the NBC station aired Another World, then Dark Shadows(a ABC show)? That must have been weird, I wonder they had a local announcer come in when Bill Wolff(who was AW's announcer) did the 'stay tuned' tag for You Don't Say(or Bright Promise)?

According to the schedule I posted, Another World aired at 3pm, then Bright Promise at 3:30pm, followed by Dark Shadows at 4pm

So Extreme Ghostbusters played on two stations at the same time?

oh that was supposed to be Extreme Dinosaurs

Okay. Thanks! So which station played Extreme Ghostbusters, and which station played Extreme Dinosaurs?

P.S. I love this forum, but it desperately needs a permanent edit button.

Today, Wheel and Jeopardy! air on WSYT/FOX on weekdays and on WNYS (now MyTV) on Saturdays, or whenever FOX has a sports pre-emption.

Wow, CBS Pittsburgh aired syndicated Wheel of Fortune at 5:30 Eastern? When did it move to the familiar 7:00 hour on WPXI?

I've seen it aired in other markets such as Charlotte, NC, in the 5-6pm hour along with Jeopardy!. Back then many stations were airing one hour 6:00 newscasts with network news at 7:00 followed by magazine shows PM Magazine or Entertainment Tonight, so the 5:00 hour worked for game shows. Newscasts weren't as common at 5:00 then for some reason.

"The Party's Over." Fran and Val are lamenting their current and in the foreseeable future single status. To rectify this problem, they decide to hold a singles party at Benny's Clam Bar. It looks like it's going to be a success for the two as the registered list is fifteen men for every woman. When they hear that Benny's Clam Bar has burned down, Fran, against her better judgment, takes the opportunity of Maxwell and C.C.'s business trip to Boston (with Brighton and Grace in tow) to hold the party at the house. Unfortunately for Fran, the men are mostly losers. Unfortunately for Fran, the one man she is interested in, Jeff, is a police officer who arrests her for not having a business license. And unfortunately for Fran, Maxwell comes home early to find the obvious remains of a wild party at the house, which he strictly forbade prior to leaving. He assumes that Maggie was the one who held the party. Although Fran tries to correct Maxwell's misassumption, Maggie takes the blame to save Fran's job. Maxwell grounds Maggie, meaning she's going to miss going to an important concert. But Fran immediately confesses. Niles convinces Maxwell not to fire Fran, as she has done so much for the kids as evidenced by Maggie's actions to save a friend. The only outstanding matter is Fran's court visit. Fran Fine: Fran Drescher, Maxwell Sheffield: Charles Shaughnessy, Niles: Daniel Davis, C.C. Babcock: Lauren Lane, Val Toriello: Rachel Chagall, The Judge: Allan Rich.

Also, Kimberly tells Peter how she has been filling in as a radio-show host and wants the monitoring bracelet off her wrist to make this change into a full-time radio therapist. Any listings for WHA-21 (the flagship of Wisconsin Public Television)?

Also, did this listing come from the Wisconsin State Journal? Did that paper's TV insert also carry out-of-market stations (e.g., Milwaukee, Rockford) too?

the listing did come from the Wisconsin State Journal, and i didn't see any Milwaukee or Rockford listings, it only showed the Madison ones and i can't edit the page anymore to add in WHA-21

Shocked that WGN didnt have the Cubbies game on that night against Atlanta

Normally they would, but that was NBC's Game Of The Week that day. I was more curious about the Sox not being on Channel 32.

The game (at Comiskey Park vs Texas, who won 7-2) was a night game, so it wouldn't have been blacked out. It probably aired on Sportsvision, by then combined with ONTV on WSNS Channel 44, as well as on cable. ONTV shut down on July 1 of that year.

Actually, Joan Rivers had left The Late Show in May of that year. I'm sure some other posters can fill in the details.

It was Arsenio Hall who was the host mid 1987 then after it was cancelled had a 13 week run apparently Lottery! on ABC survived only one season. Even with a holdout by the stars of 'Dukes of Hazzard' leading to replacement actors for those roles, the show still couldn't gain traction.

The holdout had actually ended by that point, and Tom Wopat and John Schneider had returned to the roles. However, the damage had already been done to the ratings. But those ratings were still stronger than Lottery!.

Looks like the market wasn't on board with syndicated Wheel of Fortune just yet.

A small correction: Aventuras en Pañales is actually Rugrats, the Nickelodeon cartoon. And I think La magia de la NBA finished at 00:30.

Here's a promo of Canal 9 Libertad in January 1995, where they renamed Tiny Toon Adventures as Aventuras en Pañales. That was before Rugrats first aired on cable here.

I remember those Jim Varney-as-Ernest ads for

"Your Hometown Station." He did some for WYFF/4

in Greenville, SC, "Your Friend Four," as well. And

Andy is as much a fixture at 5:30 on WDBJ as he is on WFMY, and will probably be for the indefinite future.

I picked up a couple of Adelphia Cable Southwest

Virginia issues around that time. I've always thought that the "regular" TV Guide should have created an edition with that same channel lineup that could have served southwestern Virginia, southern West Virginia, and northeastern Tennessee (instead of sticking the Tri-Cities with their own edition). It would have been a simple trick: take the Central Virginia Edition, add WXLV and WXIV, then combine with the Bristol/Kingsport/Johnson City Edition minus Knoxville (WYMT Hazard, KY might have had to be thrown in).

Recently I have heard something thanks to my cousin who lives there, about the Roanoke market. No traffic reports !!!! He was telling me that neither WDBJ nor WSLS will do them during their morning newscasts because they want people to get the feel that the Roanoke Valley is so laid back. Any truth to that? Come to think of it some years back I was driving through that area one Wednesday morning listening to Roanoke's news talker WFIR-AM 960 during their Roanoke Morning News (?) and I noticed a lack of a traffic report on that station.

I know Roanoke isn't the biggest city in Virginia but it isn't a "small town" either so what being said I am kinda surprised if they didn't do traffic reports since I-581 is a busy expressway there and for a city of that size Roanoke's downtown and airport are both quite busy. Besides there are smaller markets that do them...Morgantown, West Virginia is one I can think of.

That Ernest DVD set I mentioned also has some ads for WYFF, as well as KGBT Harlingen and a channel 24 (in Austin, I think)...

Probably is Austin. KVUE/24 is the ABC affiliate there.

The last I saw none of the Roanoke radio OR TV stations did formal traffic reports. OTOH, if there is a back-up on 81 or 581 (which is fairly often), or any of the other major arteries, they will break in and give a full report. During winter weather, both the TV and radio give extensive reports on 81 conditions. Both WDBJ and WSLS have weather cameras capable of showing traffic conditions on 581 and they use them when necessary. On a day to day basis, traffic flows pretty well in Roanoke, so I agree that traffic reports are not necessary every day.

Speaking about WSLS...what was the story about former WSLS weatherguy Mark Lamarre? I know he was fired some years back over his drug problem ( heroin ) but shortly after him getting fired the rumor around Roanoke was that he had OD'ed and had died. The rumor was so big as I can recall that WSLS actually brought him back for a one time appearance to prove to the viewers that Mark was NOT dead.

Flash forward to a 6 months ago...I was checking out the various Roanoke and Lynchburg news openings on You Tube. Reading some the posts on You Tube someone had mentioned that WSLS was so upset about those rumors even though they were about a weatherman who they had fired in the first place, that WSLS and even WDBJ both teamed up, hired a private investigator in an effort to track down the person who had started that rumor. Of course the person who had posted that message didn't say as to if WSLS & WDBJ were successful in their search. Very weird story. Never heard of a TV station that was so upset about a rumor that they had went as far as actually spending money trying to find out who it was who had started the rumor.

WSLS 10-NBC Roanoke

7:30 Living Single

Wow, was this show in syndication by then, or was WSLS some sort of a secondary Fox affiliate?

As far as the Fox question, Fox was provided by Fox 21/27 (WJPR-WFXR), which ironically has its news produced by WSLS. Not sure on the syndie question...

Yes, Living Single was in syndication by then. It entered syndication in September, 1997.

From October: "Scents and Sensibility." Cosmetics and perfume firm Bioglam hires VIP to protect it against industrial espionage. A sample of the revolutionary pheromone product Kizmet has just been stolen during a break-in. Top priority however is the inventor, lab genius Ken Miller. He secretly tests it illegally, and is hence irresistible to most females. However his former lab protégé, Dr. Tina Stokes, sells the formula to arms dealer Wilgur, because of a side-effect: after repeated use it causes extreme aggression. Vallery Irons: Pamela Anderson, Tasha Dexter: Molly Culver, Quick Williams: Shaun Baker, Nikki Franco: Natalie Raitano, Kay Simmons: Leah Lail. (repeat)

From last season: "The Hunt." In the not too distant future the hunting of animals has been banned.

Instead, hunters pay to track and kill outdated androids that have no other use. The hunters quickly "kill" one of the four androids released for their sporting pleasure but one of the hunters, Eric Nichols, isn't very enthusiastic about it all. The androids are at a disadvantage as their programming prevents from harming humans. They are told however that if any one of them can make it to the end of the hunting trail 12 kms away, they will be given their freedom. The tables are turned however when the androids find a way to overcome their prohibition against violence toward humans and the hunters become the hunted. Kel: Doug Savant, George Nichols: Ron White, Tara: Sarah Savage.

It's hard to imagine a major European city in 1985 had only two channels. Even if the government wanted full control, you'd think there'd be maybe two popular channels and a fine arts channel, similar to PBS. Or maybe TVE2 is the more refined channel, leaving TVE1 to do everything else. Mexico had numerous TV networks in the 1980s. They were privately owned but compliant with government control.

You'd also think there'd be television before 1:30 pm, at least on one channel. Even if you wanted to run cartoons, cooking shows and Latin American soap operas, you'd think there'd be something other than static on TV in the morning and midday.

It's also odd that there's so little news. TVE1 has a 35 min. newscast at 3pm, another at 9 pm and a 20 min. newscast at midnight. Other than "Resumen Informativo" at 12:30 am, I don't think there's news on TVE2.

It's odd for us right now, but it used to be that way. Portugal also had 2 channels as well.

TVE2 is indeed refined: most of its schedule is devoted to arts, education, culture and imports of American shows and documentaries.

In Denmark, Norway and Iceland you only had one station and until 1987 Iceland had a TV free day in the week. An idea the Dutch PM van Agt and West-German chancellor Schmidt contemplated. As a kid I could not imagine the possibility to watch TV in the morning or early afternoon. If you had no school you played or read comics. The American concept of Saturday morning cartoons was frowned upon by my parents although I was allowed to watch them. (RTL Plus, West-Germany but on Dutch cable, started with that in 1989) Too much TV was not considered healthy. The concept of homework from school BTW does not exist in primary school in the Netherlands. So Dutch kids could and can play a lot.

Radio was more a thing. With Radio 3 bringing loads of pop and Radio 1 (now a news station) more general entertainment.

When did you get cable TV in the Netherlands? I've seen cable recordings in YT from the late 80s showcasing European channels like TF1 or BBC1.
